Plum Grove Faces Crisis - No Parks

Streets Playground For 400 Children

This spring, and during the summer months, more than 400 children will flood the streets of Plum Grove, Ill., turning them into informal and dangerous playgrounds.

Plum Grove, the area bounded by Hicks, Plum, Kitchell and Wisconsin, does not have any parks and there is no local authority to build any.

Only about 17 acres of land in the heart of Plum Grove remain undeveloped. The land, north of Euclid and east of Vermont, is now under litigation.

The developer, Albert R. Byrd, is in a legal battle with the town of Plum Grove, but the town of Plum Grove is not a city.

Byrd has bought a vast tract of land. The town of Plum Grove is not a city and has no authority to build any parks.

Two other pieces of land, one on the northwest and one on the southeast, are also under litigation.

Water Tax Questioned At Hearing on Budget

Rumsfeld Seeks To Ease Social Security Rules

No Date Yet For Dist. 25 Referendum

Fund Transfer Is Explained

A bill to raise the limitation on the amount of outside income Social Security recipients may receive from $1,500 to $3,000 annually has been introduced by Rep. Don Rumsfeld (R-Ill.).

"Thousands of Americans must double their savings, sell their homes and rely on relatives and private organizations to provide the income," Rumsfeld said.

He said there are many individuals who want to work and pay Social Security taxes, but they have to curtail their working hours since possible earnings would exceed the $3,000 annual limit.

The committee was formed to draft a plan of action after voters last September's vote on a referendum to raise the water tax.

AUSTIN HEALEY 3000 MK. III
Now Faster... Even More Luxurious.

The classic shape stays the same—more logical than beautiful.
What's new is more power—150 hp at 5500 rpm. Top speed, an honest 125 mph. Semi-automatic disc brakes up front and overcast drums in the rear for no more stopping. In the cockpit—a polished walnut dash, locking glove box, vented bucket seats and a four-mounted control console that houses a compass tank, coded air vent, switches for accessories, radio and clock unit. Step in and see the new Healey in its jeopardy. It's at our showroom today.

Republican Women Hear Congressman

By MARILYN HELPERS
Women's Editor

The poverty program, the draft, Adam Clayton Powell, nondefense spending and government security were discussed Monday by Congressman Donald Rumsfeld at the 15th annual Easter luncheon of the Women's Republican Club of the 13th Congressional District.

Rumsfeld received enthusiastic applause when he said, "The federal government can't solve all the problems of the country. We will solve the problem by people relying on their own efforts and solving them where they stand." Then he added, "Hopefully there will be a revamping of the poverty program."

In his Washington report to the 350 Republican women, Rumsfeld said he felt that the Congressional mood is different from last year and "improved" from through the Democrats' control over the House and Senate, I am hopeful that the Republicans will write a record of voting with more right and against the majority when they are right.

Rumsfeld said he was a guest speaker at the House of Representatives to serve on the Joint Economic Committee, stated that from 1960-63, the deficit spending increased each year at a rate of 7 percent. But since 1963, the deficit has increased to 14 percent. This, he said, concerns the House of Representatives more than the Senate.

Rumsfeld said he was a guest speaker at the House of Representatives to serve on the Joint Economic Committee, stated that from 1960-63, the deficit spending increased each year at a rate of 7 percent. But since 1963, the deficit has increased to 14 percent. This, he said, concerns the House of Representatives more than the Senate.

press. "We in Congress must recognize that we have to do the military 'should be revised to enable military personnel to be fairly compensated for their efforts. This would cut down training costs and the turnover of men would be reduced," he said.

On the subject of the draft Rumsfeld said he felt the present draft system must be revised. "All of the reports issued so far on the selective service act have looked the shoddy and thought the American people should demand," he said.

WHAT ARE his ideas on the draft? Rumsfeld said, "I think people should be required to serve in the military. A few years should be free unless the security of the nation requires otherwise, and I'm not sure."

He felt that the security of the nation "should be revised to enable military personnel to be fairly compensated for their efforts. This would cut down training costs and the turnover of men would be reduced," he said.

Rumsfeld concluded his speech by saying, "The day of the population explosion and I'll do everything as my power to see that whoever we have a girl or boy is just — it's a Republican."

REPUBLICAN Club members, Marygrove S. Church, looking very much like spring with her difficult count, received a standing ovation. Spraying everyone to sit down, Mrs. Church explained the request. "I hope that this club will support a wise and sane course on national issues and elect Republicans," concluded Mrs. Church.

Some Day

Ever since the king stopped taking care of the colonies, there have been two schools of thought developing in America.

The school with the biggest gains lately is the one that advocates a benevolent government, approved in the minds of benevolent who will leave no tax dollar unspent to provide wealth, security and a full stomach all.

The other school has retreated to do-it-yourself programs such as saving drugs for the living room or fixing the hinge on the screen door. The kind of thought had its heyday back in the days when a man could carve a coffin from the forest by splitting a few logs.

It may sound cruel, but the do-it-yourself school operates on the theory that people get the kind of government they deserve. If Chicago has problems, they say, it is because of the people who live in Chicago.

One of the most remarkable people in the northwest suburbs is a man named Nicholas Latif and it is easy to suspect he is from the old school, since he is the kind of man who does things done, as can be seen in the development of the Northwest Community Hospital and many other projects.

Of course many other people joined in these efforts but it is still interesting to note that Latif's comments on developments in downtown Arlington Heights. The village wants to remove two of the buildings that Latif owns. He agrees to the proposal but at the same time suggests the village follow a more definite plan of action. He thinks the village should implement a downtown revitalization program block by block, rather than building by building.

This is the big stumbling block in the downtown plan, a dream that is truly impressive in its ambitious. But the village will get the type of community it deserves.

... by Frank E. Von Arx

Are there enough businessmen capable of understanding the village's future along with municipal guidance and help? The plan requires many outstanding leaders working together. It is the only way the village can attract the financial backing that is the prerequisite to progress and results.

The block-by-block plan sounds logical. Let's hope Latif, village officials and other leaders in the community do not let the advice go unheeded. It is the only way the village will get the type of community it deserves.

Cherry

"Great news, Peg—we've been invited to the Percy Rockefeller convention... at... wedding!"

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

Perhaps no bill introduced in the Illinois Legislature in recent years is as controversial as Rep. Paul Elvart's gun registration bill.

Rep. Elvart, a Chicago Democrat, introduced House Bill 602 which calls for the registration of all firearms and forbids certain people from owning such weapons.

The Senate version of the same bill is the creation of another Chicago Democrat, Robert E. Cherry. Many who object to Elvart's version of the gun registration bill believe that Cherry's is more palatable—but they hope that both will fail by the legislative deadline.

We certainly agree that firearms should not be in the hands of criminals, drug addicts or the delinquent.

We wonder, however, if such legislation as proposed at this time is the answer to the proliferation of unauthorized use of weapons.

The U. S. Constitution is clear in granting the right to own and bear arms. Unless a gun registration bill can be written that will be acceptable to both sides, it is not a solution.

We predict a long, stormy session of legal battles with the Supreme Court reaching the legislative deadline.

There are other bills in the legislature, however, equally as dangerous to individual rights, but not nearly as controversial as gun registration.

Perhaps the most dangerous of these is the one that should be approved by every clear-thinking citizen, in W. Russell Arlington's so-called, "Stop and Frisk" bill.

This law, if enacted, would give police departments the right to stop on personal when any citizen, any time, and subject that citizen to a search of his person.

It is currently the practice of the Chicago Police Department to arrest this practice without the benefit of enabling legislation.

It is apparently the theory of Police Dept. O. W. Wilson that enough crime is prevented by picking people up on the streets who are in fact contemplating crime. While reasons, it is not justification enough to halt the practice.

We couldn't disagree more. Again, this is going to be tested in the courts. If it clears the House and Senate and is signed into law by Gov. Otto Kern.

Latif's similar bill was cleared by the Legislature in 1963 and had routes in the gubernatorial veto. We hope any new attempt to make a stop and frisk bill will meet the same fate.

DON'T JUMP to conclusions from the preceding that this is a law of crime, or of handicapping the police in their job of enforcing the law.

Nothing could be further from the truth. We are in favor of the preservation of individual human rights and don't see where the enactment of gun registration or stop and frisk bills is going to do anything but further subvert individual rights.

There are two bills in Springfield, in the area of law enforcement, that we can endorse without reservation. These are Rep. Tobias Ray's proposal to increase the size of the Illinois State Police from 1,100 to 1,300 and Rep. Charles Ed Schaefer's proposal to take state police salaries.

We have dealt closely with the Illinois State Police over the years and know their honesty and devotion to duty. They are a highly trained and competent group of men who have been well trained and so should their salaries.

The only thing we suggest is that if the number of troopers is increased, training allowances to the department must also be raised to insure a continuous program of training for new recruits and continued education for veterans.

Suburban Strength

Tollway ramps at Arlington Heights Rd. are really a question of money. They are a question of money in the Northwest suburbs, particularly the suburbs of Arlington Heights and Elk Grove Village, and their strength 10 years from now and 20 years from now.

The cooperative effort of President John G. Woods of Arlington Heights and Jack Paul of Elk Grove Village in forming a committee to pursue tollway ramps should be accomplished quickly.

Time is important because the Tollway Commission is considering widening the Northwest Tollway to three lanes. The fact that the commission finds a need for an extra lane is a point for the committee. The booming suburbs are generating traffic.

The tollway decision still hinges on money. The tollway commission is determined not to build ramps, it has the muscle, the dictatorial power, to deny construction.

The Northwest suburbs have muscle. It is the muscle of a youthful growing territory. It is the power of record outlays for residential and industrial buildings. It is the strength of people and commerce.

The tollway people are adamant when they say they will not serve Arlington Heights and Elk Grove Village with a direct connection. The decision does not withstand the test of common sense.

The commission says it needs to restrict the number of ramps because merging traffic impedes the flow of express traffic. This reasoning is defied by the tollway's own design.

Westbound from Chicago there are exits at two-mile intervals at the Tri-State Tollway, Lee St. in Des Plaines and Elm Road in Mount Prospect to the Illinois 55 interchange that serves Rolling Meadows and Schaumburg is six miles, skipping a most obvious link in the fastest growing area of all.

The eastbound story is the same. Both directions have merging problems at the Des Plaines Oasis located between Lee St. and Elmhurst Rd.

The only restriction on merging traffic, obviously, is at Arlington Heights Rd.

The widening of the tollway is a logical time to provide ramps. The commission's negative reply is the matter of cost, estimated at $500,000.

The commission should not need a reminder of the potential and current revenue in the Northwest suburbs. In fact, the northwest route is an undoubtedly paying toll for some other life-used highways, such as the route to Aurora.

It does not require much common sense to provide a service to the people and the territory capable and willing to pay for that service. It is a good way for both sides to develop strength—and muscle.

Take Care in Choosing Shrubs

BY RICHARD DE LANO

The fact that a well landscaped home is more valuable than one without landscaping goes without saying. Yet the true value of an ornamental tree or shrub is often underestimated.

With spring at hand, it's time to consider the total value of ornamentals. Homeowners often become so interested in the immediate dollar and cents price of a valuable tree or shrub that they don't consider the value it will add to their home.

Unlike so many items—merchandise—landscaping is an investment. You can choose from garden centers, nurseries, catalogues, grocery stores or variety stores and order to your door.

Plants offered in garden centers in this area are generally chosen by the buyer of the rapid change. A big sale here, too, is that the plants are already dead and can be immediately removed from the plant.

One can also go directly to the grower, knowing that the plants are healthy and that the price is a fair one. In the latter case, however, one must be sure of the quality of the plants. A big sale here, too, is that the plants are already dead and can be immediately removed from the plant.

When you think of landscaping, you think of the long-term value of the investment. It is the spring magic when the sources of your markets and shrubs and plants, in one type of plant. When the plants are first displayed, they are from seedling trees. After standing on a bed of straw for a few days, they begin to fade. Check them daily. If they fade, send a small note to the grower. If the plants are dead or dying, return them to the grower.

Spring catalogues offer a practical way to buy some plants, especially small specialty items. However, plants with a half of an inch of soil in the catalog price will be more expensive than those in the greenhouse if shipping costs are added.

Carefully consider the quality of the plants that you purchase. They may contain valuable additions to your home and landscape.

$6 Million Apt. Project Hits Snag

The $6-million proposed Rendevous Terrace development ran into a snag on parking space, service areas and garbage enclosures in last night's plan commission meeting.

The development, which will include 23 buildings with 344 dwelling units, is located at the southeast corner of Rand Rd. and White St. comprises 32 acres of land and plans include a swimming pool and tennis court.

Though parking for 561 cars is indicated, the plan commission was not satisfied with the proposed access and access to parking.

THE DEVELOPMENT, as proposed in the drawings, submitted last night, would have no access to Rand Rd. but a dedicated street running through the corner of the acreage would exit on White Rd. and a road to the south.

The commission agreed with the location of the parking facility and lack of specified service areas would cause traffic problems within the project.

The developers agreed to submit revised drawings and to make detailed layouts of parking spaces. The matter will be heard again on April 12.

Todd 'Quite Perky' Now, Thank You

Three-year-old Todd Smith is reported "quite very well" at Northwest Community Hospital. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith of 1501 N. Northwest Hwy. in Arlington Heights, was admitted to the hospital last Monday night after a 3-inch metal shaft became imbedded in his leg.

The accident occurred when the boy fell out of his top bunk of a bed on one night. The shaft from the bed's spring penetrated his left foot.

He was taken to the hospital for surgery for about two hours with Todd in the emergency room.

Lost mother, a hospital spokesman said that the boy was "doing a lot better than we thought he'd do." The spokesman said that the boy would remain in the hospital for several more days for observation. "He's really quite perky," the hospital said.

They came to answer questions ... and that's what a panel of news men found in four candidates for three vacancies on the Arlington Heights Village Board last night.

John J. Walsh Jr., Kenneth Douglas and Charles Bennett, Caucus Party candidates at the April 18 municipal election, and Irving Cohen, one of two independents, fielded a series of probing, sometimes caustic, comments from a three-reporter panel.

Police Keep On Alert For Kidnap

Arlington Heights police continue to keep a close watch for the suspected kidnaper of 8-year-old Chicago girl.

Reports that the kidnaper, a person resembling him, have been circulating in the village's Tuesday.

Continued last night that he was a man closely resembling a picture of the kidnaper, said that all such reports are being checked out. He said, however, that no trace of the suspected kidnaper has been found in the village.

Police Keep On Alert For Kidnap

Continued last night that he was a man closely resembling a picture of the kidnaper, said that all such reports are being checked out. He said, however, that no trace of the suspected kidnaper has been found in the village.

Other reports of the suspect have been turning into the police station since that time. Detective Sgt. George Ehlert said that all such reports are being checked out. He said, however, that no trace of the suspected kidnaper has been found in the village.

Girl Gives Exposure Case Clue

A quiet worded high school girl Wednesday gave police a valuable clue in the case of a man who has been indecently exposing himself to young girls.

The man, dressed in a maroon or burgundy colored suit, followed the girl and her girl companion back to January. He finally pulled very close to them, holding the girl's arm, exposed himself. At that time they were unable to see his face.

CHICAGO said it is too early to make any statements about the study.

However, Dr. Parker offered to make a medical examination of the village as a whole, not just the activities of the part district.

Stolen Gun Found in Lot

A revolver stolen from the home of Donald J. Hughes of 1501 N. Northwest Hwy. in Arlington Heights, was found in a lot on the corner of Rand Rd. and White St. on the corner of the property that is the site of the Rendevous Terrace development.

Mr. Hughes, 39, R. Davis, called some men from the wooded lot across the street from his home, saying that the gun was "stolen" from him.

He said that the gun was found in a lot on the corner of the property that is the site of the Rendevous Terrace development.

Dist. 214 Board Troubled By Student Labor

Questions of ethics, and the possibility of high school students competing with industry in a clean-up program, were discussed, but not resolved by the Dist. 214 Board of Education.

At a previous meeting Sept. Edward Gilbert told members that as Arlington Heights manufacturing company had asked the students in the work orientation program to take over the entire production of one of their products.

The Weber-Staples Products Co. has been providing work for the students by having them assemble a portion of a food warmer. The firm has contracted the work for partial assembly of the product. The company has offered the students in the program assembly and package the entire product. A contract between the company and the district would be involved.

Recreation Study Under Way

A $400 study to evaluate the recreational programs and facilities of Arlington Heights begins Wednesday under the supervision of the University of Illinois.

Dr. Ida Parker of the University of Illinois, Champaign, will observe programs and facilities of the village as a whole, not just the activities of the part district.

Dr. Parker and Charles Crook, president of the District Board, said they are pleased with the study.

Griffith Watched Arlington Grow

BY JACK COPE

Steen engineers pulled the suburban early of the Chicago and North Western, four men comprised the Arlington Heights police department, and the population was about 4,000 when William (Lan) Griffith came to Arlington Heights in 1928.

There have been a lot of changes since then, he reflects as he approaches his 75th birthday Friday. "It was a small town then. A small town. Everybody knew everybody else."

"It was primarily a German town at that time. I believe that when I was elected to the village board in 1938, I was the first trustee that wasn't German and a member of the Lutheran Church," Griffith said.

Griffith was born in Philadelphia on March 31, 1892. He served in the Navy during World War I and stayed on after the war to play piano for Navy recruiting tours. He took an discharge at Great Lakes and went to work in a Chicago insurance firm.

IT WAS WHILE working there that he met Marie Sumner, who lived in Arlington Heights. They were married in 1925 and moved to Arlington shortly after their first child, William Griffith, local insurance man, was born.

The Griffiths had four boys, two of whom, William and Harold, live in Arlington. One son, Thomas, is deceased, and the other, Allen, is manager of the Barnett Bank, Chicago.

Griffith has always been active in affairs here. In 1936 he was commander of the American Legion. His Lions Club "I played for it only Griffith, following 1938, was utilized for 15 years by the Lions Club."

Griffith was elected to the village board in 1938, and he served until 1947. He was re-elected in 1947, 1950, 1953, 1956, 1959, 1962, 1965, and 1968.

Sharon Operates Personal Branch Of War Effort

Somehow in Viet Nam there is a medical supply truck American soldiers have named "Sharon".

In Prospect Heights there is a girl named Sharon who during the war years was corresponding with several soldiers. As a token of her appreciation for the soldiers' enthusiasm for her letters, they named a truck for her.

Sharon Gerke, 20, of 15 S. Edwards, became a favorite mail pal of the soldiers after she headed a drive to collect books for the men in Viet Nam.

In July, Sharon and a friend, Joanne Krieger of Wheeling, collected 40,000 paperback books for the cause. She started the drive because a friend wrote home and said that the men would really appreciate something good to read.

T. H. BOOKS eventually received Viet Nam via very personated at Fort Riley, Kan., who took them in small packs when they were sent to Viet Nam for a tour of duty.

Inside each box of books, Sharon put a note, "Boys, please enjoy them!"

She did. Sharon received a few letters from the men at Fort Riley who were repackaging the books. One of the letters, from Larry Allen of Atlanta, Ga., said:

"We are going to Viet Nam this year. It is our first tour of duty. We will be taking 40,000 books with us."

"We are in the process of sending these books at the present time. Each with a Viet Nam Division will receive approximately 200 books. There are 20,000 people in the division."

"Without your help, it would have been impossible to obtain that many books. I would like to thank you for yourself, and also for the Viet Nam Division."

JACK Krieger, a resident of Chicago's South Side, wrote to Sharon when he was at Fort Riley.

"I expect young people who are not able to participate in actual war, but who want to make the boys' life a little easier and happier. I only wish more of our generation would have a human interest in the United States' cause, and ask of what service they could be of in the war effort, demonstrating, raising, and buying things."

When Krieger, 22, arrived at Viet Nam in November, he continued to write to Sharon.

"The country itself is like a jungle. Hot, humid, with temperatures easily reaching 100 degrees or lower 100, with humidity to equal the temperature."

matter of the war orientation program should be discussed further at future meetings.

Attorney Alfie Frankel suggested that a scholarship fund for the program be established by the district to distribute funds to the students engaged in the work projects.

"It is often to secure material with which the students would be encouraged to supply the school with material, which material would be returned to the particular area when the desired operation on the material had been completed," he declared.

"Without a willingness to provide content to the material upon which the work could be performed, the program obviously could not function."

"If the work orientation program is conducted in accordance with the foregoing suggestions, it is our opinion that the program will be well in the powers granted to school district and, like limitations thereon."

A recent Prospect resident, Mrs. Grace Simmonds of 22 S. Maple, also expressed concern about the program when a letter to board members.

She mentioned the district's justifying participation in work that for adults provides a living wage.

The board members took no action but decided that the of big government program. Sharon Gerke, who is coming out directly for a commission system, said that the village government should make studies toward giving the human relations committee more recognition.

ROTTAS asked whether Douglas, who stated in his presentation before the board, that he wanted to see Arlington Heights as a "civilian community," was a "civilian community," or a realistic politician and had more to offer from his original position.

He was referring to a recent comment by Douglas that he was not particularly in favor of a local fair housing ordinance.

High Bid Accepted

The highest bidder turned out to be the winner when Township High School District 214 awarded bids for science equipment to John Hersey High School.

The bid for the equipment has been made by the bid of education to Leonard Peterson & Co. for $11,580.

The other bids submitted were: Warden Manufacturing Co., $11,850; and Merchants Equipment Co., $12,350.

ACTING on the recommendations of the board members, the board members selected the most expensive equipment for the school at its meeting Monday.

Should Ring, senior division head at Whiting High School, recommended that the board members approve the bid.

"I'm very proud of people like you back home."

"It's very difficult being in a strange country like Viet Nam, 10,000 miles away from home, but I know I'm here for a good reason—these people want freedom and we are helping them achieve their goal. And it's worth the effort, Sharon, that makes this job much more because it's great to know that people back home really do care about the GI's over here."

"I compare this with a football game, and right now I'm part of the team. This is a rough game but it's the big game of the year and I know we will win with fan like you to help."

ONE SOLDIER named Dick, with the GI's engineers, wrote: "We really miss being over here but we get homesick and lonely, and just knowing that someone cares enough about us to send us books makes it all worthwhile."

"I can't tell you our exact location but we are scattered throughout the Mekong Delta and perform most all kinds of work."

Some Day

"The tollway people had better order another batch of cement," said Uncle John Hienrichs, developer of the bush bed parking theory for solving downtown problems.

"The man we are going to have a direct route to Menlo Park," said his friend Zenas Fish.

"Better than that," replied Uncle John. "Any day now they are start grading the entrance and exit ramps at Arlington Heights Rd. so that people who must go to Chicago can find their way without getting lost in Des Plaines."

"The heavy artillery has arrived and even the experts in their shelters at tollway headquarters will hear the howling from the fall story and station in the planning session."

"The Cause Party platform in Arlington Heights puts tollway ramps in a statutory with depressing the railroad tracks and construction of a new highway overpass, which is the same as putting them in the trucking by the telephone next Christmas."

"At the same time John G. Woods who is the president of the people in Arlington Heights, including nearly all of the toll-drivers, is ready to join hands with Jack Paul, who is president of all the way-out and station from Elk Grove Village, to demand equal opportunity for the northwest tollway."

"On top of that there is a growing, independent source of toll in the neighborhood that depends on fleets of trucks commuting daily into Chicago and other points across the nation."

"It is easy to see the lines are being drawn and soon we can expect reinforcements from the greatest army of all, the politicians. They will provide the pipelines into the state halls and eventually into the reasoning facilities of the tollway commission itself."

... by Frank E. Von Arx

"The plan has one flaw," commented Zenas. "It has a federal subsidy which is the way we build highways today."

"That will be taken care of in due time," said Uncle John. "After we form the stream of village presidents, disgruntled motorists and industrial leaders to blaze a path on the tollway, we will come under the special leadership of a disaster area."

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

A recent letter to the editor, criticizing the facts in a similar letter to the editor, started out, "I believe that you should be aware of the facts before you print any letters."

Then, the critical letter went on to outline a complete set of new "facts" that were patently erroneous.

Incidents such as these are common in newspaper offices throughout the Chicago area. It's election time and the people are slowly beginning to shake their heads and take a look at the candidates and the issues.

A down-brook of a political battle. The issue in Mount Prospect has crystallized around the backfired cliché, "One must be a Republican." That means that the rest, the People's AMU Party, don't like the rule, the United Village Party.

The issue in Mount Prospect are not developing along the lines of community problems, but rather as a crusade to local "what the opposition looks like," the hold on the issue of one man — Mayor Daniel Conger.

WHAT the anti-Congress forces fail to realize, as they perceive their "one man Republican," is that the United Village Party has its own problems, but that the current victory of the anti-Congress forces is in its own power.

Final point of the activity during a wedge into the United Village Party ranks in Treasurer Robert Teichert. Teichert's move to place the issue of village manager by state statute rather than by ordinance on the April 11 ballot was taken without Conger's approval.

As a matter of fact, the municipal parties have formed and are battling down to the wire in what is best described in not mean Congress is opposed to the managerial system of government. He is not Heidem, believe, however, that April 11 is not the time to determine the issue.

Now, like the United Village Party ticket, he has little choice but to support the managerial system. The party line has been, "We support the system of government the people want."

AMG candidates have not been so generous. They have taken no position on the managerial issue, other than to explain the two systems and say "If you vote for the state system, you are sure the position, not the man holding it."

THIS is the situation in Mount Prospect as the campaign heats up. It's going to get better, but in the words of that little great political politician, Cherry Truema, "Those who can't stand the heat should get out of the kitchen."

In Arlington Heights, one man issue is the Cause Party and the battle is being waged on that issue — in the attempt of two independents, without financing or organization, indeed constitutes a battle.

Some men have sought solutions in the past. They have been there are degrees of tolerance and tolerance is what it is which can affect in When John D. Byrd said a water (which is a water) he had a feeling of great tranquility in the first few weeks but in time were on this feeling was replaced by anxiety and depressed loneliness. He concluded that it must control do without the sounds, smells, touch and vision of other human beings.

So to combat the loneliness imposed by modern living, people are moving or changing jobs often than ever before, getting divorced and remarried, doing out more and spending more time watching television. Some seek solace in alcohol while others cling to home pets or petting places for companionship. The problem is especially acute in older persons. Although there is no one solution it is obvious that no one is ever too old to need a person to live with and a search for companionship supplies many of us with such a purpose. Variety is not the spice of life, it is a prime essential.

Smog in the Kitchen

City folk who believe they've found an island of safety in a sea of smog when they enter their homes are in for a rude shock.

"The air inside an average home is actually more polluted than the air outside it," asserts John Hart Kornblith, M.D., of the University of Pennsylvania, in an interview in the Health Bulletin.

Though home air pollution has been with us since prehistory, time, usually today, it is a greater threat because its sources are both more sinister and more visible, he says.

About 200 pounds of greenhouse moisture are given off each year in the average kitchen. This combines with other pollutants so that, according to Korn-blith, "the kitchen resembles today more a laboratory than the old-fashioned place for preparation of the family fare."

For example, chlorine, used to treat water, escapes into the air during cooking. Gas appliances consume large amounts of oxygen, lack of which is one of the causes of the headaches that plague many housewives.

There are also all kinds of chemicals in such non-common household substances as cleaners, solvents, abrasives, bleaches and pesticides.

And not to be overlooked are dust, animal hair and a variety of vegetable fibers floating in the air during cooking. In sneezing, wheezing, skin eruptions and digestive system complaints. Anyone for test dwelling?

Menu Tricks That Will 'Fool Hungry Family'

BY MARYLENE HELFERS
Woman's Editor

The first of April, come on, do it. It's not open for All Fool Day. But why the people call it so.

Not I, nor they themselves, do know. But on this day are people sent the purpose for pure amusement.

(Floor Robins Almanac, 1760). "Monday is April 1, April Fool's Day, so be prepared to find tall in the sugar bowl and for other practical jokes. All Fools' Day pranks have been going on for unknown centuries and the year probably won't be any different.

We have a little practical joke of our own that might help you defend yourself against your pranks. For dinner on April Fool's serve poached eggs on toast (at least it looks like poached eggs on toast at first glance). Our dinner is in reality a slice of pound cake, topped with an "egg, many side up." The whites of the egg is a bit spoonful of whipped cream, covered with powdered sugar spread over the pound cake and the "yolk" is a well-drained peach half. Sprinkle it with "pepper" (nutmeg) and serve it to your unsuspecting family.

If you're really a practical joker at heart, you might serve these poached eggs for breakfast instead of the eggs they're expecting.

Extra Hard-Boiled Eggs For Tasty Casserole

Easter is over but the colored eggs are still around. If the Easter bunny left too many hard-boiled eggs at your house, try using some of them in this Continental Cheese Casserole.

You can make five hard-boiled eggs disappear from those baskets in this tempting casserole. It features two natural companions, onion and Swiss cheese. There's plenty of protein in this one-dish meal, thanks to the generous amount of shredded Swiss cheese and the hard-boiled eggs.

Mix of green pepper and pimiento add a bit of color to the casserole. For a finishing touch, slices of crusty French bread make golden brown around the casserole.

Serve it with a crisp salad and you'll have a balanced meal, that's inexpensive to prepare and you can still use up all those eggs the bunny left at your house.

CONTINENTAL CHEESE CASSEROLE

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 eggs sliced
- 5 hard-boiled eggs, sliced
- 5 eggs shredded Swiss cheese
- 1 can (16-1/2 ounce) cream of onion soup
- 1/4 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon butter, softened
- 6 slices French bread

In a shallow hot butter, add onion and milk until tender but not brown. Spread over bottom of 1-1/2 quart shallow casserole. Top with a layer of egg slices, then with Swiss cheese. Combine soup, milk, green pepper, pimiento and paprika; stir until smooth. Pour over casserole. Butter bread, overlap slices on top of casserole. Bake in 350-degree preheated oven 30 minutes, place under broiler to brown bread. Serves 4-6.

Use up some of your extra hard-boiled Easter eggs in this Continental Cheese Casserole.

A "Welcome Home" coffee was held for Mrs. Harold L. Stichenmeyer Monday night at Elk Grove High School and was attended by the faculty when in High School (Class 1914). Harwood guest Mrs. Stichenmeyer (left) is treated to coffee by Mrs. Edward Gilbert, wife of Dr. Gilbert. The Stichenmeyers have been touring the United States and Canada since the retirement of former Supt. Stichenmeyer in July.

New Plant Ready for Steel Work

The newest addition to Arlington Heights' commercial community is about ready to go into full production after seven years of planning and negotiating.

Arlington Structural Steel Co. Inc., 1727 E. Davis, recently completed its move from Chicago to a newly-remodeled building in the commercial zone south of Northwest Hwy. It will eventually employ 20 people.

The company, which provides the steel framing for the Arlington High School Gymnasium and other buildings in the village, is headed by Ralph Carbone, Arlington Heights, president, and his brother Ben Carbone, Elk Grove, vice president.

The brothers first decided to move the operation from Chicago to Arlington Heights six years ago. They purchased some 1 1/2 acres of land in 1961, but zoning and easement problems hindered the move.

A few years ago, the received an easement which gives them the necessary access to their property and in September of last year construction of the building was completed.

The new building is 10,000 square feet of floor space in the shop area and 1,200 square feet for offices.

The business was originally founded as Dahl-Clow Inc. in 1945, and prior to its move here it was located at 5555 N. Wolcott Ave., Chicago. By 1964, the company was producing between 1,600 and 1,700 tons of structural steel and miscellaneous iron.

Benjamin Carbone, three other top men at the company are Arlington residents. They are R. L. Ewenson, sales manager; W. L. Robertson, chief draftsman; and Fred Karol, superintendent. Ben Carbone, chief of erection, is from Franklin Park.

The company is presently doing work for completion of many parts of its own plant, but will soon go into production for outside jobs. It specializes in small and medium size structural work which requires more service and study than normally encountered on general construction jobs.

Looking over plans for one of the future jobs that will provide employment for 20 people in the Arlington Area are (left to right) Ralph Carbone, president of Arlington Structural Steel Co.; W. L. Robertson, chief draftsman; E. L. Ewenson, sales manager; and B. N. Carbone, vice president.

She is attending Prospect High School studying typing, speech, shorthand, dactylography, and accounting. When she returns to her home country she will enter her fifth year of secondary school.

While here as an International Fellowship Student, Marie plans to become acquainted with the customs, manners and ways of Americans.

"When we say all-day, we're not kidding," she said in discussing plans for the outing. "We're going to leave from Randolph-Sherman Center in a 6 a.m. and return there about midnight."

After arriving in Springfield, they will visit House Committee meetings and observe the Senate in session during the morning.

Registration may be made calling Mrs. Atley, 537, 2567 East of the 10th in $10 for transportation and dinner.

Nurses Recognition Week is observed by a reception for nurses at Northwest Community Hospital. More than 150 registered nurses, both full-time and part-time employees, attended an informal gathering in the hospital's cafeteria on Tuesday. Decor With Jungle Beat One Way to Skin Wall

BY BETTY AINSLEE

Wallpapers so rich and realistic in texture and design they look like the skin of animals are being made by the United Wallpaper Co. of Chicago.

Preferring leopard, tiger or possibly a zebra hide? These new, simulated animal skins are possible with a new process of flocking wall coverings.

You've seen the flocked wallpapers in the model homes you've walked through -- or in theaters or smart restaurants. Haven't you wanted to actually touch the raised flocking? They seem so warm and luxurious. Usually these wallpapers have been associated with Victorian decorating, but the new Flocks Unlimited Collection of this company is pretty and offers a new jungle beat for your wall coverings.

Flocked paper was made back in the 15th Century to mimic the rich cut velvet and damasks which were used among the wealthy as wall hangings.

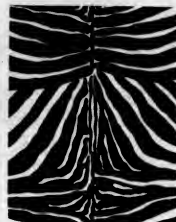

Now today, these new, velvet pile wallpapers dramatically bring drab walls into luxurious life, and make interior decoration really spectacular.

These wall coverings are prearranged and on extra strength paper for ease in hanging. They are washable with soap and water and a new adhesive is used to attach the flocking firmly to the wallpaper for many permanent wall beauties.

So if you dream of the jungle, long to join a safari, want the beat of the exotic in your decorating -- see the new Flocks Unlimited at your wallpaper dealer.

Deep pile flocked wallpaper looks like the leopard skin you brought back from your last safari.

Try a rich zebra skin to brighten up your walls. New flocked wall coverings are by United Wallpaper.

Rolling Meadows Annexation

Plan A Secret

The Rolling Meadows City Council is secretly considering a new annexation to the city, says Mayor William Miska.

He mentioned the possibility at a Thursday night meeting of the council for city election.

He said he would not divulge any information about the annexation other than "it will be announced." He said it is the prerogative of the council to consider such matters "in secret."

previous administration's bid. This means the city's projected needs for the coming year, as worked up by the city manager and his department heads, won't be known until after the election.

Then when candidates from either POP or CAP are asked whether they favor or oppose a much-talked-about city sales tax, the stock answers are:

"I can't give you an honest answer until I find out the financial status of the city" or "I'd probably favor one if there's a proven need."

WITHOUT the budget, the candidates just aren't willing to say "Yes for it" or "No against it." As one frustrated voter said at the conclusion of the meeting: "It's tough to make you POP your CAP."

About the only clear-cut issue that has developed so far in the campaign concerns city hall. Both parties seem to agree that the city could improve the present facility.

They disagree on who should build it.

The POP candidate seems to favor a proposal to purchase a tract of land and build a new city hall.

The CAP party candidates are enamored in their approach to the problem.

tion to this proposal. They favor adding a second story to the present facility, eliminating the need for a new building and a new building.

MORE THAN 200 persons turned out for the Thursday night meeting, which was held at the Carl Sandburg Junior High School.

The meeting was sponsored jointly by the Rolling Meadows Women's Club and the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters.

Mr. Frank Ponto, of the Arlington Heights League, was moderator.

The meeting was "non-partisan" and no debate was allowed. Each candidate was allowed to make a brief statement and to answer questions.

POP's major selling point seemed to be "experience in government," building Miska, there are three other candidates for the POP ticket.

CAP's major theme seems to be "greater efficiency in government." There are no incumbents.

In addition to mayor, voters will elect a city clerk, city treasurer, and city auditor.

The CAP party candidates are enamored in their approach to the problem.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Westerns Happy Change of Pace

BY SONIA JOHNSON

Who said Westerns were going out of style? Maybe on TV, but how about on stage?

Not too many of them have appeared in the media, probably because there aren't that many to pool play for. We're not looking for something in the line of "Gunsmoke," but rather N. Richard Nash's merry drama "The Ransmaler."

Who may remember the movie which starred Matt Lincoln? The play stars JEFFERY HUNTER and is currently at Phoenix Playhouse.

Yes, we said drama, merrily and poignantly with enough subtle comedy to relieve the tension. On a hot summer day, some years back, a Westerner stands a rambling family suffered from a lengthy drought. Father endeavored to find a woman to marry his oldest son, Noah, ran the ranch and also tried to find the first Younger son, Jim, rebuffed. Daughter, Lizzie, wanted to dream a little of romance and other things, but is convinced by practical Noah that she will be a plain spinner.

JEFFERY HUNTER

sympathetic. You love Lizzie? WOODY TRACY, a new comer to area theater, is also a graduate of Northwestern, and a very young man. His interpretation of Young Jim is the comedy relief and almost a score snapper. SHAN WALSH, as Noah, does the "happy" with an understanding that transcends itself to the audience.

Country Club Theatre, co-sponsoring with Under The Yarns.

McVicker Theatre continues with the family musical "Little Me" to open next week. The "The Old O'Possum" is the mystery "Dadly M. For Man."

A brochure is being prepared for the new facility. Further information is available at the Barrington Tennis Club. DU-1237.

Knights Think They're Title-Bound

New Prospect Baseball Coach Takes 'Wait and See' Attitude

Bill Staylor is a top-notch and personable man who talks more like a native of Missouri than a California export. It is also the man who has inherited the reins of Prospect's varsity baseball team, a club most expect have tabbed as the odds-on favorite for the Mid-Southern League crown this season and perhaps the area representative in the state tournament.

Staylor, who spent three years as the head coach at Falmouth High School in California before coming to Prospect this year, hasn't been around long enough to listen to the experts though he is decidedly a disciple of the "show-me school."

"If I can believe the kid-and-of course I want to—we are going all the way to the state final this year," Staylor smiled. "Any good team has that kind of confidence. But I have no way of knowing that they are going to win. And we have to find a second and a third pitcher if we are going anywhere. You can't be any better than your second pitcher in high school."

Staylor's doubts about hitting are pretty standard here at this stage of the season where no one has faced anything more formidable than a March 10 game. He has a few reservations on the pitching situation as most expect.

In senior Dave Kingman, the Knights have one of the top right-handers in the state. Kingman will be in right field when he has his pitching prowess. He is a high school senior and one of the most consistent hitters. If the big senior does not, Marty Gallagher will do the work of assurance in his state.

Kingman had only a so-so season last spring, but his performance during the summer American League season drew the attention of major league scouts. After all, though, there is a lot to be proven before the entire Prospect team.

ALL-CONFERENCE catcher Tom Lundquist looks like the man most likely to back up Kingman on the mound, although his towering experience amounts to a few innings last summer. Senior Joe Kozak, another right-hander, turned in a fine season last year. Other youngsters who might get a start or two are Pat Schwab, Dick Johnson, and Ed Haskett, the only southpaw in the crowd.

Prospect's battery problems and on the field Lundquist is one of the most capable relievers in a high school team. He is a high school senior and one of the most consistent hitters. If the big senior does not, Marty Gallagher will do the work of assurance in his state.

Ferry John Phillips is another senior who is considered a varsity catcher. Junior Junior Doug took last year. Junior Doug took last year.

PROSPECT WILL open its exhibition season Thursday at home against Nike North. The Knights don't play again until April 11 when they open the season with a five game series in the next eight days after that.

It's not a schedule designed for the team that is short on pitching depth, but it should give the Knights ample opportunity to show their cautious new fans just how good they can be.

Big Ten Names 4th All-League Scholastic Unit

The most potent scoring aggregation in the Big Ten history has been named the league's fourth annual All-Academics team by 34 Midwest basketball men. The team consists of the following players:

THE SCHOLASTIC ATHLETE Quarter contains five of the league's top seven scorers, and its leading rebounder. The team averaged 11.3 points per game in total scoring. Each player was an All-Conference selection by his own league and each qualified for the team by posting a 20.0 average in his own league for the entire season prior to February 1967. The 1967 team has combined averaged which equals 22.6 points per game, 47 rebounds per game, 47 assists per game, and a 3.0 average in steals and a grade point average of 2.14.

FIRST TEAM selections are Chuck Nantz of Wisconsin, Jim Barnes of Northwestern, Jim Dawson of Illinois, Bill Hooley of Ohio State, and Dave Schell of Illinois.

Barnes and Hooley are both seniors from the 1966 team. Barnes was the "Wildcat" captain and the league's second leading scorer with a 21.1 average. He has a 3.08 grade point average in pre-war, and he has a 2.14 Northwestern career record for conference scoring with 899 points in 42 games.

Hooley was the league's leading rebounder with 11.8 rebounds per game and his fourth best shooting with a 22.8 mark. The Michigan State, Barnes Court of Purdue, and Roby McGee of Iowa.

Bunt Expert Nelson Neddle, former Northwestern basketball star, is featured in an article on "The Bunt" in the current issue of the "Official Basketball Digest." Neddle, now basketball coach at Louisiana State University, was a member of the 1957 Northwestern team that won the Big Ten Championship.

A First Senior Staylor's winning of a state of the Big Ten basketball title in 1966-67 was the first championship for the Big Ten in 11 years. Staylor and his team, which included Staylor and Lundquist, are coming to State in 1965-66.

Records The 1967 NCAA swimming and diving championships at Michigan State saw two Big Ten records tumble and two others tied.

REALTORS

Those Pledged to an Established Code of Ethics

Realtors are professionals in real estate who subscribe to a strict Code of Ethics as a member of the local and state boards and of the National Association of Realtors.

REALTOR'S PLEDGE

Perhaps the best summary of the high ideals which the Realtor cherishes is contained in his Realtor's Pledge:

- I AM A REALTOR
I Pledge Myself:
To protect the individual right of real estate ownership and to widen the opportunity to enjoy it;
To be honorable and honest in all dealings;
To seek better to represent my clients by building my knowledge and competence;
To act fairly towards all in the spirit of the Golden Rule;
To serve well my community, and through it my country;
To observe the Realtor's Code of Ethics and conform my conduct to its lofty ideals.

The Realtors Who Advertise On These Pages Stand Ready To Serve You!

BE SURE..

Are you planning to buy or sell real estate? If so, here's the most important fact you should know before making any kind of real estate transaction. It's this: Not every real estate man or woman is a Realtor! You see, only men or women who are members of the National Association of Realtors are Realtors and Realtors are professional real estate men and women who are members of the National Association of Realtors. These men and women also subscribe to the professional standards of an established code of ethics. What does all this mean to you? Exactly this: When you sell... a Realtor is able to tell you accurately what your real estate is likely to bring... and able to market it for you as quickly as conditions warrant. When you buy... a Realtor is able to find property for you which suits your needs and pocketbook. A Realtor is ready and willing to put his storehouse of real estate knowledge and information at your service. Visit or phone him.

A Realtor is not "just another real estate man." He's a member of your local real estate board and thus of the National Association of Realtors. Only by this affiliation is he permitted to use the trademark, REALTOR.
